

103D CONGRESS
1ST SESSION

S. 686

To establish a Gulf of Mexico Commission and a Gulf of Mexico Program Office within the Environmental Protection Agency, and for other purposes.

IN THE SENATE OF THE UNITED STATES

MARCH 31 (legislative day, MARCH 3), 1993

Mr. KRUEGER (for himself, Mr. BREAUX, Mr. GRAHAM, and Mr. JOHNSTON) introduced the following bill; which was read twice and referred to the Committee on Environment and Public Works

A BILL

To establish a Gulf of Mexico Commission and a Gulf of Mexico Program Office within the Environmental Protection Agency, and for other purposes.

1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representa-
2 tives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

3 SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE.

4 This Act may be cited as the “Gulf of Mexico Act
5 of 1993”.

6 SEC. 2. FINDINGS.

7 (a) ECONOMIC IMPACT FINDINGS.—Congress makes 8 the following findings concerning economic activities in the 9 Gulf of Mexico region:

1 (1) The Gulf of Mexico supplies over 30 percent
2 of the domestic fish and seafood market, making it
3 one of the world's most significant fisheries.

4 (2) Forty-five percent of the domestic import 5 and export tonnage passes through ports located in 6 the Gulf of Mexico.

7 (3) Over 90 percent of United States and Mexi-
8 can oil production is derived from offshore oil wells
9 located in the Gulf of Mexico. Payments to the Unit-
10 ed States Treasury under Outer Continental Shelf
11 production leases have totaled more than 12 $80,000,000,000 over the past 30 years, which is 13 only exceeded by Federal income tax revenue.

14 (4) Offshore oil and gas exploration in the Gulf
15 of Mexico utilizes a fleet of approximately 200 mo-
16 bile rigs that is supported by a multibillion dollar
17 marine service and supply industry.

18 (5) The rapidly growing beach resort and recre-
19 ation industry along the Gulf of Mexico coastlines
20 generates approximately $10,000,000,000 per year
21 in revenues.

22 (6) Wetlands in the Gulf of Mexico region pro-
23 vide habitat for more than 75 percent of the migra-
24 tory waterfowl of North America and a breeding

1 ground for a wide variety of sport and commercial
2 fish and shellfish.

3 (b) FINDINGS RELATING TO ENVIRONMENTAL
4 THREATS.—Congress makes the following findings con-
5 cerning environmental threats to the ecological system of 6 the Gulf of Mexico:

7 (1) Excessively low levels of oxygen have caused 8 up to 3,000 square miles of bottom waters known as 9 the dead zone to be documented off the Louisiana
10 and Texas coasts. This phenomenon is caused by nu-
11 trient runoff and other forms of water pollution that 12 drain into the Gulf.

13 (2) Three-fourths of the North American land
14 mass drains into the Gulf. Urban and agricultural 15 runoff, including pesticides, animal waste, motor oil,
16 industrial and chemical waste, fertilizers, and solid 17 waste from this enormous area drain directly into 18 the Gulf of Mexico.

19 (3) Concerns about human health have resulted 20 in the permanent or conditional closure of 3,400,000
21 acres of shellfish-growing areas along the Gulf of 22 Mexico coast.

23 (4) The entire Gulf of Mexico region is experi-24 encing a gradual and significant loss of inland and 25 coastal wetlands. In conjunction with coastal ero-

1 sion, the loss of inland and coastal wetlands reduces
2 hurricane protection and jeopardizes intercoastal
3 and intracoastal waterways.

4 (5) The continued rapid loss of wetland and 5 seagrass habitats in estuaries threatens the contin-
6 ued productivity of commercial fishery stocks be-7 cause between 92 and 98 percent of the commercial 8 fish and shellfish of the Gulf of Mexico rely on the 9 estuarine habitats for at least a part of their life cy-
10 cles.

11 (6) The huge volume of marine debris that is 12 accumulating on the beaches of the Gulf of Mexico
13 is in a concentration of approximately 1 ton per mile 14 in many areas and is largely attributable to the lack 15 of adequate disposal practices and facilities on resale
16 and in ports throughout the Wider Caribbean Re-
17 gion.

18 (7) Spillage of crude oil and other petroleum 19 and chemical products transported on the waters of 20 the Gulf of Mexico continues to harm environmental 21 resources and resources related to tourism, and the 22 risk of a major calamity increases with the increase
23 of marine traffic.

1 (c) MANAGEMENT FINDINGS.—Congress makes the
2 following findings concerning the management of the Gulf
3 of Mexico:

4 (1) The Gulf States, by virtue of their proxim-
5 ity to the Gulf of Mexico and their knowledge of the 6 local conditions affecting the environmental integrity
7 of the Gulf of Mexico, must continue to play an es-
8 sential role in planning for the management, protec-
9 tion, and restoration of the natural resources of the 10 Gulf of Mexico.

11 (2) The existing efforts of citizens groups, local 12 agencies, State governments, institutions of higher 13 education, private industries, nonprofit research or-
14 ganizations, the Environmental Protection Agency
15 (including the Gulf of Mexico Program and the 16 International Division of the Environmental Protec-
17 tion Agency), the Department of Commerce (includ-
18 ing the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Adminis-
19 tration and the National Marine Fisheries Service), 20 the Department of Agriculture (including the Soil
21 Conservation Service), the Department of the Inte-22 rior (including the Minerals Management Service,
23 the National Park Service, the Geological Survey,
24 and the Fish and Wildlife Service), the Department 25 of the Army (including the Corps of Engineers), the

1 Department of Transportation (including the Coast
2 Guard), and other Federal agencies should be uti-
3 lized to carry out this Act.

4 (3) Oceanic and atmospheric circulation pat-
5 terns around the Gulf of Mexico inherently render 6 the marine environment of the Gulf of Mexico an in-
7 tegral component of the environment of the Wider
8 Caribbean Region, and life cycles of marine species,
9 the quality of water and the cleanliness of beaches
10 in the Gulf are dependent on the Wider Caribbean
11 Region and its environment as a whole.
